

Pencil Safety

Read about pencil safety with your child before giving him/her a pencil.

We LOVE pencils!

Pencils are BIG helpers!

They help us write!

Before we write, let's learn about how to be safe around pencils!

A pencil has two ends. One side is the point, and the other side is the eraser.

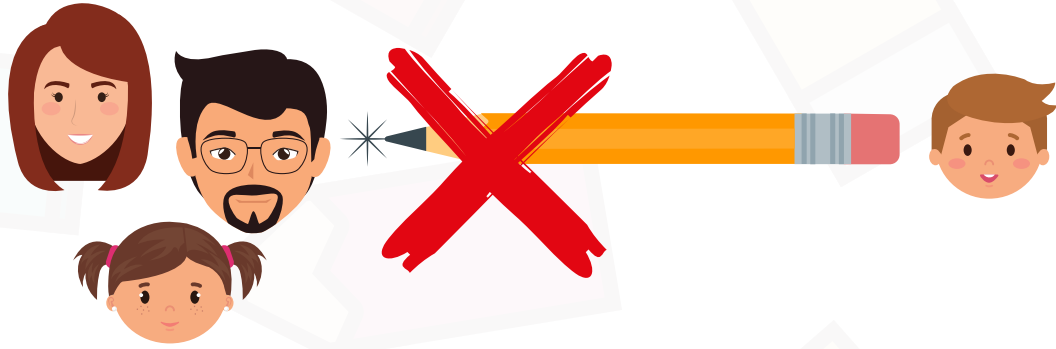

The point is very sharp. It's the part that helps us write. Even though it helps us, the point can hurt you if you're not careful. Always keep the point facing away from you.

The eraser is soft. It helps us erase writing when we make a mistake. This side of the pencil is safe. The eraser can always face you.

The point of a pencil is also not safe for others around you.
Never face or touch someone with the point of your pencil.

When you are walking with a pencil, make sure the point is facing the floor. Never run with a pencil!

When you are not using a pencil, put it back in its proper place.

Which children are holding a pencil safely? Which children are not being safe with their pencils?
